SAN FRANCISCO GREETES HOOVER

City Warmly Acclaims Him as Favorite Choice

In your Panama-Pacific Exposition, which celebrated the opening of the canal.

"The war destroyed much of these arrangements but I have received a certificate entitling me to a silver medal for this service."

At this point, Hoover beamed upon Mayor Rolph with an amused grin which was translated into a burst of appreciative cheers when he added:

"I have, however, never had the medal."

For the sake of the record, it was explained later that the medal had been sent him while he was food administrator, laboring in Belgium to meet the crisis of starving war victims, and was lost.

"During the past seven years," he continued, "I have had the duty as Secretary of Commerce of directing many government services which greatly affect the welfare of San Francisco."

Turning to Lieut.-Gov. Pitts of Los Angeles, who was present as the representative of the people of the State at large, he went on into an exposition of the wider scope of problems and activities.

TEXT OF TALK

The text of Mr. Hoover's response to the address of welcome follows:

"Mr. Mayor: I have been deeply touched by the manifestations I have received from my fellow-townsmen of San Francisco, and I wish to express my appreciation for the generous and cordial reception which you and they have given to me."

"It has been one of the penalties of public service to which I was called at the outbreak of the war, that I should have been so largely deprived of the joys of living in this neighborhood."

"I can go back, Mr. Mayor, in recollection even beyond the time that you became a public institution, even beyond that longest term which you have served as mayor in our great city. I can recollect from experience when these could be but for a few cents and lodging for a quarter in this town, for it is now more than three years since I came to San Francisco, a youth in search of a job—and I got it."

"Your office buildings have been continuous basic operations since that time. From here I have been drafted amongst the army of California-trained engineers for service in different parts of the world, but with the completion of every campaign, the lure of California has brought me to this home ground."

FAST REVIEWED

San Francisco is responsible for my entry into public service. The request of this city took me to Europe in 1914, where I was caught in the machinery of the war. I was busily engaged on her behalf in negotiation with various governments to secure the release of American prisoners of war. It was in your Panama-Pacific Exposition which celebrated the opening of the canal. The war destroyed much of these arrangements, but I received a certificate entitling me to a silver medal for the service. I have, however, never had the medal.

"During these past seven years I have had the duty as Secretary of Commerce of directing many government services which greatly affect the welfare of San Francisco. One of these activities has been the aid of our Federal government in building up foreign trade on the Pacific Coast. That trade is the basis of employment for a large part of our working people. It is the outlet for the surplus of our farmers in the great valley."

TRADE GROWS

Our foreign trade has grown rapidly since the war, until today, it is 50 per cent greater than before the war. In the meantime, the other great nations engaged in the war are only just now recovering to the level of their prewar trade. These other nations are now emerging from the destruction of war. The outlook of the world today is for the greatest era of commercial expansion in history.

"The rest of the world will become better customers. They will have larger demands, but they will also become stronger competitors for the markets of the Orient. In this new era of expansion, the whole Pacific Coast will have a large part to play."

"With the high skill and leadership in her merchants, her manufacturers, her shipping men, this coast has a bright future in this period of world expansion."

"Upon my every return to San Francisco, I see increasing growth, increasing comfort in homes, increasing beauty in the city. The becoming flood of prosperity, if it be guided aright, will enable you to add further to the beauty of the city and comfort of its people."

"Mr. Mayor, you were among those gentlemen who did me the great honor of selecting me for leadership of a great political party through my nomination as President of the United States. My name was presented to that political party by the people of California. It was a mark of their confidence and their esteem."

"Words are difficult vehicles through which to convey the pride which men may rightfully feel at such a mark of esteem from their fellow-citizens, and an obligation rests on my side that I shall not only represent the great political party which has designated me for leadership, but that I shall do it in such a fashion as to bring credit and distinction upon the people of California."

"I thank you, Mr. Mayor, for the personal part you have played in these events, and I wish to thank my fellow-citizens of California for the high confidence they have placed upon me."

ORGANIZATION OF WOMAN'S MOVEMENT GETS STARTED

NEW YORK, July 27. (AP)—Organization of a woman's movement to aid the woman voter who has no definite political affiliations was started here today by Mrs. P. Names of associate committee members and plans for enrolling a large feminine vote for Hoover are to be evolved within the next few days and will be announced next week, Mrs. Slade said. A New York headquarters will be established and from it work in the various States directed.

PEACE UNION FOR PACIFIC ZONE URGED CALLES TO RETIRE AS TERM ENDS

International Relations Institute Hears Rowell Warn of War Dangers

Sanchez Regarded Likely to Succeed President; Congress Convenes Today

SEATTLE, July 27. (AP)—Unless definite means of promoting peace and understanding are developed between nations of the Pacific Ocean there can be no hope of permanent peace, Chester H. Rowell, publisher and regent of the University of California, told the Institute of International Relations at its closing session here tonight.

"If we were to assume that what has been said, and that the forces which produced certain results in the past will produce them in the future, there would be no hope of a permanent peace in the Pacific," he said.

Mentioning all the disturbances and unrest of Asia Rowell remarked, "here surely, are the seeds of more wars than ever ravaged Europe and America."

The growing importance of the Pacific rim in international relations and commerce was discussed by Dr. R. B. Von Kienbaum, chancellor of the Institute. He likewise stressed the necessity of public officials and business men who are in contact with other countries possessing at least a basic understanding of the achievements, culture, language and history of the foreign nations.

Party to Make First Report on Finances Next Week

Books to be Kept Open for Inspection Every Day

Forecasts of North Carolina Victory Received

WASHINGTON, July 27. (Exclusive)—The Republicans are prepared to carry out the voluntary pledge inserted in the Kansas City platform of making full and frequent reports on campaign receipts and disbursements.

J. R. Nutt of Ohio, Republican national treasurer, announced today that the first statement, showing all financial transactions of the party up to and including the 21st inst., will be filed with the appropriate committees of Congress within the next few days. He was at work on the statement today.

BOOKS ALWAYS OPEN

Moreover, he said, the books at national headquarters will be open to public inspection at all times.

The first report is not expected to reveal much due to the fact the financial drive of the Republican party has just started. However, one thing it will indicate, it was said by persons at headquarters, is an unusually large number of small contributors. For more than a week the treasurer's office at headquarters has been swamped with letters from rank-and-file Republicans over the country containing donations of $1 and $2 and other small sums.

This is regarded as a healthy sign by party leaders—as a token that the man in the street is interested in the national campaign this year to an exceptional degree, and on the side of Herbert Hoover.

The pledge adopted by the Republican party at the national convention reads as follows:

PARTY'S PLEDGE

"The Republican party, beginning not later than August 1, and every thirty days thereafter—the last publication being not later than five days before the election—will file with the committees of the House and Senate a complete account of all contributions, the names of the contributors, and amounts expended and for what purposes, and will at all times hold its records and books touching upon such matters open for inspection."

An echo of the break of Senator Simmons, veteran Democratic chief in North Carolina, away from the national headquarters that Herbert Hoover will carry the State and

WOMEN BUSY IN EAST

In response to queries as to how many national committeewomen will attend the formal notification of Mr. Hoover, Mrs. Alvin T. Hart, director of the women's division of the campaign, said this afternoon that a considerable number of middle and far-western committeewomen are expected but that few from the East will be able to make the trip.

"Most of the committeewomen in the East are starting right in on their campaign," said Mrs. Hart. "They feel that they can do the most good in that way."

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth E. Sharpe of Rhode Island and Mrs. Olga Lundgren of Wisconsin have been formally appointed as members of the notification committee. Neither Mrs. Sharpe nor Mrs. Lundgren is on the national committee. Among the committeewomen expected to attend are Mrs. Worthington Seranton, Pennsylvania; Mrs. J. L. Hughes, Washington; Mrs. B. Brooks, Wyoming; Mrs. O. H. Berry, Montana; Mrs. O. P. Clark, California; Mrs. J. E. Hillman, Colorado, and Miss Gladys Terhune, Idaho.

TEMPERATURES STILL HIGH

Temperatures still high but further relief may be experienced today.

SEATTLE, July 27. (AP)—Marked drops in the mercury of coastal cities of the Pacific-Northwest and the much-hoped-for moderation of temperatures in the interior today indicated the last of a record-breaking heat spell. Predictions for tomorrow are for the complete dissipation of the abnormal conditions.

Spokane, which yesterday sweltered under 108, its highest recorded temperature, saw the thermometer fall to 102 today. Walla Walla experienced a 7-deg. drop to 104, while in Yakima it fell from 110 to 102. In Idaho the temperature lowered 2 deg. at Boise to 102 and at Pocatello to 93.

On the coast the mercury broke from 88 to 78 at Seattle; 84 to 84 at Portland, and 98 to 90 at Roseburg, Or. Klamath Falls, B. C., cooled 2 deg. to 84.

The heat wave set new records to a score of towns east of the Cascade Mountains, caused one death, numerous prostrations, hampered farm operations and "increased the forest fire hazard."

RANCHO MALIBU BEACHES

Where Seashore Seclusion Never Ends.

Truly exclusive! That briefly but fully describes Rancho Malibu Beach. There is one outstanding reason among the many why this historic strand has not a tremendous vogue as the Southland's most distinctive seashore community is found in the single word . . .

SECLUDED

You can never be crowded at Rancho Malibu. The surf breaks against the sand of your own private front yard. Is it any wonder then that famous screen stars . . . Fugitives from Fame . . . have found Malibu a magic spot to rest and play far from public gaze.

On Zuma and Trancas Beaches a new, startling development is taking place. Drive out over the recently opened unit of the scenic Roosevelt Highway. See for yourself why Rancho Malibu is . . .

CHUCKLES from LIFE

It's All in the Knack
"If you have the knack," says a typewriter advertisement, "extra money is so easily earned writing articles or stories." It then goes on to say that fifty dollars was recently the reward for two hours' pleasant work on a C.

The logic is not only pleasant but faultless. You can easily earn extra money with a D—crowbar, if you have the knack of cracking safes. If you have the knack of bleeding successfully before the bar, an E—brief case will make you independent for life.

There's a lot of extra jack to be had from a baseball bat, if you have the knack of pasting them over the fence with the precision of Babe Ruth. You can expect similar returns from a stethoscope, or a sextant, or a paint brush, or a violin—if you have the knack. But you must, evidently, have the knack. I want to get in on the ground floor of this. Has anybody the name

King Carnival Moves In On Long Beach As Exposition Opens

ENTERTAINMENT played tag with industry and education when the long-awaited Pacific Southwest Exposition threw open its gates to the public at Long Beach yesterday. The formal opening was marked by the cannon and aerial bomb and the scream of siren and factory whistle as the throngs burst through the gates. The exposition is a rare combination of carnival, a panorama of industrial and commercial progress, a educational pageant and a common meeting place for the peoples of the world. Twenty-one nations have sent exhibits to the exposition, portraying the arts and crafts of their peoples, spread out upon the magic carpet of California hospitality. Colorful costumes of Arabia, Denmark, the American Indian, Mexico and others added to the beauty of the scene. And yet the democracy of the American crowd out for a good time is pronounced in Yankee carnival cries: "Hot Dogs!" and "You can't tell the exhibits without a score card!" (Photos by George R. Watson, Times staff photographer.)

YORK, July 27. (AP)—Southern

Tunney slashed

Tom Heeney was well on the wounds inflicted in Tex Rickard's

heavyweight fight probably will leave permanent scars.
With Tunney,
the champion

a new significance as a "killer"

great Dempsey, visiting for nical knockout, the promoter of the fight in the Yankee Stadium the center of the stage.

complete itemized statement of the receipts for the major event of the outdoor season.
It revealed that the Madison
Garden Corporation suffered a loss of $155,719.77 on the only 42,101 of the faithful gross sale of $991,014.50.
Expense of the match, including $100,000 paid Tunney and to the challenger, amounted to $126,084.50. Throughout of 25 per cent on admissions, the State tax of 5 per cent drew $12,500. Rental of the stadium,
$1,141 and general expenses amounted to $33,000. In addition, the fight receipts themselves,
a net revenue of $20,000,
paid the right motion picture $15,000 for the radio privilege.

TAKES THE BLAME
"I was all my fault," Rickard said. "I allowed myself to be into staging the bout in the event month of the year in date in September, with every back in New York after summer, would have assured a loss of at least $400,000 more.
Again, the general public did not take to the match. You know, it was going to flop, and I was, too, but I couldn't see it. The ticket sale fooled me because my best customers were blocks of tickets and then many of them back on the stage. That never happened before. I built up another concept and I have until next July.
There won't be another championship match
a year from this September."

CHAIN GROCERY EARNINGS TOLD

Safeway Gain in First Half 1928 Set at $660,050

Total Sales Increased During Period $11,821,927

Figures for Second Quarter Ahead of Previous

Consolidated net profits of Safeway Stores, Inc., grocery chain, for the six months ended June 30, last, after all charges, including depreciation and taxes, amounted to $1,408,786, which, after preferred dividends, is equivalent to $16.85 a share on 83,472 shares of common stock outstanding according to a statement issued yesterday by the company.

This compares with net profits of $748,716, or $11.20 a share on 55,000 shares outstanding in the corresponding period of last year, an increase of $660,050, or approximately 88 per cent. Dividend requirements of $10 a share on the common stock were, therefore, more than earned in the first half of the year.

Net profits of the chain system in the three months ended June 30, last, totaled $724,847, equivalent after preferred dividends, to $8.50 per share on the common stock, or at the annual rate of $34 a share. For the entire year 1927 the company earned $1,906,674, or $27.50 after preferred dividends, or $27.50 a share on 69,000 common shares.

Net profits for the quarter just closed also compare with first-quarter profits of $683,918. This is a gain of $40,929, or more than 6 per cent in three months.

Sales for the first six months aggregated $6,212,212, as against $5,600,202 in the same period last year, a gain of $11,821,927, or 34 per cent. Sales for the last quarter amounted to $2,426,580, as compared with $1,827,977 for the second quarter of 1927.

The Safeway system operates a total of 1,381 stores, of which 480 are located in Southern California. Common stock of the company is listed on the Los Angeles and New York curb exchanges.

LOCAL PORK SLAUGHTER SETS MARK

Upward Trend on Hog Market Reaches Highest Level in Year

J. A. McNaughton, executive vice-president of the Los Angeles National Stockyards, reported yesterday that the hog slaughter in Los Angeles for the first six months of the current year was far higher than for the same period of last year.

The trend of the hog market has attracted wide attention during recent weeks and has shown a gradual upward trend until values are now the highest for the year, the recent top of $12.35 per hundredweight, dating back to September, 1927. He said. Pig production in the country as a whole shows a decrease of 7 per cent from a year ago, while the California pig farming industry shows an increase of 20 per cent. This increase is general throughout the State.

There is a feeling in trade circles that favorable prices may be expected to continue in the hog market for some months to come. Mr. McNaughton further stated that as long as the scarcity in feed continues there will be a broad demand for pork, which will aid in maintaining values on a higher level.

BUILDING-LOAN ASSETS UP

Resources of Los Angeles Associations Increase 50 Per Cent for Fiscal Year

Resources of building-loan associations of Los Angeles for the fiscal year closed June 30, last, not only showed a more rapid growth than any other city of comparable size in the United States, but surpassed all previous records for gain, according to the official statement of condition released yesterday by George S. Walker, State Building and Loan Commissioner through the California Building-Loan League.

Aggregate assets of the thirty-six associations operating in this city June 30, last, amounted to $80,944,321, as compared with $52,940,392 on March 31, last, and $50,386,073 on June 30, 1927. This is an increase of $7,034,982, during the three months' period and $29,558,269 for the twelve months. The increase scored in the second quarter was slightly larger than the increase made in the first quarter, while the gain for the year amounted to 30 per cent. Los Angeles continues to maintain the leading position in the State with assets more than double those of any other city.

Four associations reported increases of more than $2,000,000 each during the past year, while seven added more than $1,000,000 to their assets. Among those making the most substantial gains were: Fidelity Building and Loan Association, $4,729,000; Guaranty Building and Loan Association, $2,951,538; Pacific Coast Building and Loan Association, $2,870,805; Southern California Building and Loan Association, $1,891,515; State Mutual Building and Loan Association, $2,068,060; and United States Building and Loan Association, $1,378,711.

Trade Survey Strikes Note of Optimism

NEW YORK, July 27. (AP)—Dun's tomorrow will say:

With more activity in certain lines than commonly prevails at this period, July has been a month of encouraging commercial conditions. The normal seasonal restraints militate against any broad expansion, but the picture is bright.

There does not exist at present, as on some previous occasions, the overextension of commitments that is threatening to force liquidation with its accompanying unsettlement, and buyers are not inclined to operate in advance of needs by paying for goods at inflated prices. The level of wholesale quotations has changed only moderately, having for the most part maintained exceptional stability, and the absence of disturbing fluctuations is helpful to the orderly course of business.

Weekly bank clearings $8,853,280,000, an increase of 1.1 per cent over last year.

Co-operation Held Cure for Surplus Crops

BERKELEY, July 27. (AP)—Closer co-operation between co-operators and commercial competitors and uncoordinated producers, advanced as the solution of the surplus-crop problem here today by Harry M. Crech of San Francisco and Fresno, general counsel for Sun-Maid Raisin Growers, speaking before a meeting of the American Institute of Co-operation.

Ward M. Buckles, manager of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Spokane, said management of a co-operative association is one of the most important factors in its success. James J. Brennan, president of the California Fruit Exchange at Sacramento, declared that each year co-operators have to give the producers as much money as they could have obtained by shipping through independent commercial companies or trouble will start.

SALES OF MACHINE TOOLS HOLDING UP

BUYING REPORTED MODERATELY ACTIVE WITH VOLUME AHEAD OF 1927

NEW YORK, July 27. (Exclusive)—Business in machine tools, while not as active as in the previous year, is reported to be holding up better than at this time last year.

With automobile manufacturers beginning to line up their fall purchasing program in the machine tool direction is satisfactory, American Machine tool reports. Ford is still a good buyer of equipment, according to reports from Detroit.

Conditions in Chicago and New York are regarded as encouraging. Net machine tool sales were $800,000 in the first half of the year, according to reports from Detroit.

Inquiries for equipment from agricultural engine builders have been fairly active. Manufacturers of farm machinery and road-building equipment have been active buyers, especially in the Middle West and the South.

NEW YORK, July 27. (AP)—The Denver Morning Post says that reorganization of the American Beet Sugar Company, New York, has been effected here, and it is understood that executive headquarters will be removed from New York to Denver.

Formal announcement is being withheld for the time being, the newspaper says, adding that the officers and a board of directors have been selected. The company has assets in excess of $25,000,000. S. W. Sinsheimer of Denver was re-elected president of the company.

Fruit Growers Adopt Worker Bonus Policy

SAN JOSE, July 27. (AP)—The California Fruit and Apriort Growers Association today announced the adoption of an efficiency compensation plan for its employees based on the results of the workers' annual survey.

The plan, the announcement said, is an innovation in co-operative management structure. Salary scales in the organization will be kept at a comparatively low level, but provided that the workers' annual survey shows a gain of 25 per cent in the event employees, through efficiency, create a surplus in an administration budget which has been established.

This budget as fixed by the directors for this season is lower than actual costs during recent years. If these costs are kept lower than the amount set up for the budget the employees will participate in the surplus. The balance will go to growers delivering fruit.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27. (Exclusive)—Announcement was made here today of the purchase of a triangular block of property in the Mission district at a reported cost of $500,000 for the erection of a new Sears, Roebuck & Co. department store.

The purchase confirmed rumors in circulation here for some time and was announced coincidentally with the recording of the deeds. The property is located at Mission, Valencia and Army streets, and covers more than 100,000 square feet of ground space.

Construction work will be started in the immediate future, it was said.

MARQUIS TELLS OF CAFE BLAST

Gloria Swanson's Husband on Stand in Arson Case

Rescue of Gen. Lodjensky in Explosion Described

Trial to Continue Monday; Crocker Due to Testify

Appearing as a Hollywood fashion plate against an otherwise drab courtroom background, the Marquis de la Falaise, husband of Gloria Swanson, took the stand yesterday in Judge Doran's court as one of the State's principal witnesses in the trial of Michael Crocker, charged with arson and a burning insured property in connection with the rescue of Gen. Lodjensky last of the Russian Empire.

Cafe at 8640 Sunset Boulevard. The Marquis gave a colorful description of the cafe as a rendezvous for prominent folk of the Hollywood film colony and told how, on the night of the explosion, he had gone to the place for a drink with Eddie Sutherland, director, and Lilly Damita, French star.

THERE FOR DINNER
"We were there for a quiet little dinner," said the Marquis. "Charlie Chaplin and Harry Crocker were seated at a table near us. During the evening I saw others in the place, including Colleen Moore, John Monk Saunders and Jack Dempsey."

The Marquis declared the first intimation he had that anything was wrong was when he noticed a wisp of smoke curling through the room.

"We had just left the place when the explosion occurred," he said. After the first wave of confusion had subsided, the Marquis said he and Sutherland re-entered the building and helped remove Gen. Theodore Lodjensky, an officer in the Imperial Russian army under the late Czar, to safety.

CASE CONTINUED
Harry Crocker, secretary and business manager for Charlie Chaplin, was scheduled to follow Marquis de la Falaise, but Judge Doran continued the case to Monday in order to call the jury in the Marquis case in the afternoon. Crocker probably will be the first witness to be called Monday by Dep. Dist. Atty. Clarke and Angeles, who are prosecuting.

The possibility of a parade of Hollywood film people before the jury was indicated yesterday when Defense Attorney Stanley Vio and Walker Ham announced they had issued subpoenas for three prominent actors.

FOREIGN SHERLOCKS
Unlike Europe, we have not yet learned in this country of the use of the resources of science for police detection work, says the Atlantic Under European methods the police are trained to examine with a high degree of skill every detail connected with the crime and to rely upon scientific experts at every turn.

Nothing is too minute for examination and study. The investigating officer therefore spares no pains to seek for the slightest clue—even a single hair caught on the hands of victims, lodged upon some piece of clothing, or fallen on the ground near by. Any such discoveries he promptly turns over to an expert microscopist.

Thus, in a recorded case in Austria, a man was gravely wounded by an unknown person on a very dark night. The criminal dropped his cap in flight, and inside the cap two hairs were found. After careful examination the expert microscopist was able to describe the wearer as "a man of middle age, robust constitution, inclined to obesity; black hair intermingled with gray, recently cut; commencing to grow bald."

In comparison with such European methods one is reminded of the cap which James J. Van Eyselen, Vansetti trial—found at the scene of the Braintree murder and alleged to belong to Sacco. Upon the identification of its wearer hung an issue of nationwide concern. Yet, according to the testimony of Chief Callahan of Braintree, he carried the cap around for ten days to two weeks under the seat of his motor car, and then himself ripped the lining to find identification marks before he ultimately gave it to Capt. Scott.

MURDER AND ART
The quinquenary of Hubert van Recck recalls the story of the discovery, or, more correctly, the revival of oil painting by the brothers, who set to work to discover some medium which would dry naturally.

After many experiments, they discovered that "oil of linseed and of nuts" gave better results than anything they had tried. When these were boiled with other ingredients they formed the varnish so much desired. Later they discovered that mixing these oils with their color made them not only equal to water colors but gave them more brilliancy and force and that they united much better in oil than in water.

ACTRESS'S SPOUSE IN LEADING ROLE

Long Beach Woman Accused of False Pretense

Asserted Petrified Body of Son Used as Lure

Mulcting of Southern Kin Charged by Police

With a fortune in view, Mrs. Alice Sawyer, 45 years of age, an apartment-house owner of Long Beach, planned to use the petrified body of her dead son, Theron Sawyer, as the bait for a fortune scheme to raise a large sum for the sale of the body, according to charges contained in a secret indictment returned by the Federal grand jury.

The woman was arrested yesterday at Long Beach by Deputy United States Marshal Mangier and was taken to the Federal building where she provided $500 had in United States District Court. She was accused of using the mails to charge the body to a secret, in indictment returned by the Federal grand jury.

It is asserted that she wrote to her cousin, John L. Stutz, 63 years of age, and his wife, Mrs. Laura Stutz, of Mississippi, that she had discovered after the burial of her son, Theron Sawyer, at the age of 21, that his body had become petrified by some peculiar action of earth and water and that she could make anywhere from $25,000 to $350,000 by selling the body for the use of science and still retain her right to it.

PETRIFICATION FOUND
It is charged Mrs. Sawyer obtained $22,000 from her cousin to finance the deal. It is stated the youth died of pneumonia in 1923, and that six months later it was discovered the grave had settled. An investigation was made and it was learned the body had apparently petrified, possibly due to the soil, the dampness and the embalming fluid. The body was again interred.

After Congressman Collins of Mississippi had been informed of the investments made by Mr. and Mrs. Stutz, postal inspectors began an investigation, which is said to have disclosed that Mrs. Sawyer had sent at least forty letters to Mr. and Mrs. Stutz relating to the plan.

FALSE STATEMENTS
It is said to have been stated in one of the letters that the son's body was in the hands of a scientist in San Francisco, whereas, it is asserted, the body never had been removed from the El Centro cemetery.

Stutz is said to have been cautioned by Mrs. Sawyer to destroy all letters sent to him, after a time, he started to save them. He said he made several trips to Los Angeles to see Mrs. Sawyer, and that he had received from her letters Mrs. Sawyer is reported to have stated she had been offered $25,000 to $75,000 for the corpse.

Stutz, 63 years of age, and his wife, Mrs. Laura Stutz, of Mississippi, that she had discovered after the burial of her son, Theron Sawyer, at the age of 21, that his body had become petrified by some peculiar action of earth and water and that she could make anywhere from $25,000 to $350,000 by selling the body for the use of science and still retain her right to it.

PETRIFICATION FOUND
It is charged Mrs. Sawyer obtained $22,000 from her cousin to finance the deal. It is stated the youth died of pneumonia in 1923, and that six months later it was discovered the grave had settled. An investigation was made and it was learned the body had apparently petrified, possibly due to the soil, the dampness and the embalming fluid. The body was again interred.

After Congressman Collins of Mississippi had been informed of the investments made by Mr. and Mrs. Stutz, postal inspectors began an investigation, which is said to have disclosed that Mrs. Sawyer had sent at least forty letters to Mr. and Mrs. Stutz relating to the plan.

FALSE STATEMENTS
It is said to have been stated in one of the letters that the son's body was in the hands of a scientist in San Francisco, whereas, it is asserted, the body never had been removed from the El Centro cemetery.

Stutz is said to have been cautioned by Mrs. Sawyer to destroy all letters sent to him, after a time, he started to save them. He said he made several trips to Los Angeles to see Mrs. Sawyer, and that he had received from her letters Mrs. Sawyer is reported to have stated she had been offered $25,000 to $75,000 for the corpse.
